

REACH

Recognizing and Eliminating disparities in Addiction
through Culturally informed Healthcare

Want to learn how to improve care for racial and ethnic minority patients with substance use disorder?

ABOUT REACH

REACH is 1-year educational program for trainees interested in pursuing an Addiction Fellowship beginning July 2022, as well as medical students, APRN/NP and PA Students, and medical residents - from racial/ethnic URM backgrounds, all specialties.

Scholars endeavor to be change agents to improve the health and care of racial/ethnic underrepresented minority (URM) patients with substance use disorders (SUDs).

APPLICATION TIMELINE

March 1, 2021

Online application opens

July 30, 2021

Application deadline

September – October 2021

Invited Fellows are interviewed

November 2021

Notice of acceptance for all Scholars

July 1, 2022

Entry of accepted Scholars into the program at participating universities

Funding provided for scholars to attend the 1-Week Intensive, 1 conference, and up to $104,000 for Fellowship programs.

CURRICULUM

- 1-Week Intensive course at Yale University; includes Advocacy, Racism and Health, Systems of Care, Structural Competency, Harm Reduction, Medical Co-morbidities, and more.
- Scholarly Project to improve health outcomes for racial/ethnic URM
- Professional Mentorship
- Monthly Webinars

ELIGIBILITY

- In training (i.e. entering fellowship, in residency or school) as of July 1, 2022
- U.S. Citizen
- Racial/ethnic minority background (i.e. Black, African or African-American, Non-Caucasian Hispanic or Latinx, American Indian or Alaska Native, Native Hawaiian or Pacific Islander)

FOR MORE INFORMATION:

WEBSITE: <https://reachgrant.org>

EMAIL: reach@aaap.org

Translating Science. Transforming Lives.

SAMHSA
Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration

Funding for this initiative was made possible (in part) by grant no. 5H79TI081358-03 from SAMHSA. The views expressed in written conference materials or publications and by speakers and moderators do not necessarily reflect the official policies of the Department of Health and Human Services; nor does mention of trade names, commercial practices, or organizations imply endorsement by the U.S. government